NJ Clean Communities Council Gives “Volunteer Award” to Roxbury Township Volunteer

ROXBURY – June 27, 2016 – Steven Daniel Young, a volunteer who helps clean the streets of Roxbury Township, received the “Volunteer Award” from the New Jersey Clean Communities Council (NJCCC) for his dedication to keeping the streets trash free.

Young helps clean the streets of Roxbury Township by picking up and properly disposing of littered cigarette butts, as well as recycling the plastic bottles, bags, and cans that he finds. He picks up around a full garbage can of waste every week.

“If everyone had similar determination to help the environment as much as Steven, the streets throughout the entire nation would be thoroughly removed of trash. We are all very proud of him,” NJCCC Executive Director Sandy Huber said.

NJCCC is a comprehensive, statewide litter-abatement program that has served New Jersey residents and visitors for more than 25 years. Learn more at njclean.org.
